Cheese Meat Loaf

Plentiful supplies of cheese and also of the less expensive grades of beef are due on markets this fall, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says. These two make a good team on a variety of dishes. For example, there's cheese -meat loaf—good to serve hot or cold. If you have freezer space, and want to save time on future meals, why not make up enough of this mixture for several meals instead of one, and freeze the extra loaves?

Here's a recipe for doing just that. If you want to know how many servings in the total recipe, the research home economists say you can count on 25 slices each about 3-4 to 1½ by 4 inches. Ingredients for cheese meat loaf are: 2½ pounds ground beef; 1 cup chopped cheese; 3 tablespoons of chopped green pepper; 2-3 cup of chopped onion; 2½ cups of dry bread crumbs; 1 tablespoon salt; ½ small bay leaf, crushed; 1-4 teaspoon thyme; dash of garlic salt; 3 eggs beaten; 2½ cups tomato puree.

To make: Mix beef, cheese, green pepper, onion, crumbs, and seasoning thoroughly. Combine the eggs and tomatoes and blend into meat mixture.

To serve immediately: place the meat mixture in loaf pan. Bake at 350 F. (moderate oven) for about an hour.

Cheese meat loaf may be frozen baked or unbaked. To freeze unbaked, wrap the unbaked loaf in moisture . resistant packaging material, Or put mixture in metal freezer containers or loaf pans; cover with lids or wrap in packaging material. Seal and freeze. For frozen baked meat loaf, bake mixture in metal freezer containers or loaf pans at 350F (moderate over) for about 1 hour. Cool quickly. Cover or wrap as above. Seal and freeze.

To serve the baked frozen loaf cold, thaw in the refrigerator and slice. To serve hot and not overcook the loaf, slice and then cover the slices with gravy or tomato sauce and reheat in saucepan over low heat.

To prepare frozen uncooked meat loaf for serving, bake uncovered at 350F (moderate oven) for about 1½ hours or until done.

Clover Hill H. D. Club Held Out-Door Meeting Tuesday

A most interesting meeting of the Clover Hill Home Demonstration Club was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Elliott Torrence.

Assembling at 10 A. M., the ladies soon had a wood fire going in the outdoor fireplace, and also a charcoal fire right beside it. It was the first time some of the women had ever seen charcoal.

Mrs. Odelle Godsey and Mrs. Jacob Lewis very ably demonstrated how to barbecue a chicken over charcoal and also how to wrap potatoes in aluminum foil and bake on the coals. They made little "pans" out of the foil and quickly fried hamburgers right on the coals.

On the wood fire they made "Corn Quickie" out of onions, peppers, tomatoes, corn, crumbled bacon and grated cheese. They sliced Vienna bread very thick, buttered with garlic butter and warmed it on top of the grill.

By now everyone was ravenous, and I suspect my readers are also getting a few pangs in the gastric regions. So with slices of turnip greens, potato salad, a tossed green salad, cakes, pies, coffee and tea to finish the meal, the club members sat down to enjoy the fruit of their labors.

The air was just crisp enough to make outdoor cooking and eating a pleasure and not one lady mentioned that she had ever been or ever expected to be on a diet.

And so ended a very enjoyable morning.

A business session was held in the afternoon with the president, Mrs. Russel Conner, presiding.

Plans were made for an Auction Sale at the next meeting.

The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Lorraine Torrence
Vice - President, Mrs. Tweedy — Ruth
Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Anne Smith
Federation Goal Leader, Mrs. Frances Conner
Food Leaders, Mrs. A. F. Godsey and Mrs. Verna Conner
Housing Leaders, Mrs. Jacob Lewis and Mrs. T. R. Richardson
Clothing Leaders, Mrs. J. L. Torrence and Mrs. L. W. Herncall.

These officers were elected.

The following ladies were present: Mesdames J. L. and Elliot Torrence; W. T. Covington, T. R. and T. M. Richardson, R. C. and W. H. Conner, Wilson Paulette, A. F. Godsey, John Tweedy, Kit Reynolds, C. L. Johnson, Rebecca Shanks and Miss Mary Carrington Conner.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday, October 9, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Richardson.

About The Home

Contemporary decorating seems to be the most popular style of decorating today. The reason for this must be that it is a blending of the old and the new.

The moderns consider the function of a building or of furniture and make beauty and line conform to the need. The other extreme are the lovers of the traditional in architecture and furnishings regardless of comfort and usefulness.

This blending of ideas has discarded much ornament, simplified the wall surfaces of interiors, enlarged windows, used artificial light, brought in lighter colors in fabrics and woods.

The stuffiness has been taken out of rooms and the clutter cleared away. The beauty of period furniture has been combined with clearer colors and newer weaves of textured fabrics.

Contemporary decorating means freedom from limitations. It allows the imagination to play. If colors are harmonious and the scale is right, choose furniture form any period you like.

Wall surfaces are usually plain in the modern or contemporary room. Often one wall is a contrast to the others. This contrast is attained by draperies, vivid-figured wallpaper or paneling.

Plywood is being used frequently to achieve interesting results. There are numbers of different types of surfaces to choose from—rough, satin smooth, a mingled effect that gives the appearance of marble, and many more. Patterns can be easily made with the wood that will be individual and decorative.

Plywood is sturdy enough to be used in outdoor construction. It is used to construct blinds, doors and all kinds of outside trim for the home.
